

ABSTRACT

A persulfated saccharide compound capable of acting on selectin and chemokine. According to the present invention, there are provided a saccharide
5 compound capable of interacting with L-selectin, P-selectin and chemokine; a pharmaceutical composition; and an agent for treating or preventing a disease of which sideration is associated with biological events mediated by any of L-selectin, P-selectin and chemokine.